

Public Health Thank You Day Themed Tweets

Consider including an image or link to public health story with your post!

What Is Public Health?

Public Health Thank You Day is around the corner! Join us Nov. 19 thanking the public health heroes that help our communities thrive! #PHTYD www.publichealththankyouday.org

From first responders to educators, researchers and more, public health workers are essential to healthy communities. #PHTYD

Public health works to contain disease, prevent injury, promote wellness, and lift people up to healthier and happier lives. #PHTYD

#DYK public health initiatives were critical in developing a vaccine for small-pox and eradicating the disease worldwide? #PHTYD

Public health improves quality of life, saves money, helps children thrive, and reduces suffering. Thank you public health workers! #PHTYD

Public health threats:

The first responders helping get hurricane-affected communities get back on their feet are true public health heroes! #PHTYD

.@US_FDA funded research for non-addictive pain relievers is helping against the #opioidepidemic <https://tinyurl.com/ycuvhh97>. #PHTYD

.@CDCgov prepares for the worst. With health preparedness & response plans, we appreciate those on the frontlines! #PHTYD

Thank you to our public health heroes who are working tirelessly to provide #vaccines to keep our communities safe during #flu season #PHTYD

The US spent an estimated $277B on Alzheimer's in 2018. Let's support researchers in their quest for a cure! #PHTYD

Disparities:

Public health heroes work to ensure every child has a bright future! #PHTYD

Involving community voices is crucial in developing sustainable long-term health improvements. Thank you to all the public health workers working to make these voices heard! #PHTYD

On PHTYD, Monday, November 19:

It's Public Health Thank You Day! Join us in thanking public health heroes across the country for their amazing work! #PHTYD

Thank you to all public health heroes that dedicate their lives to helping Americans lead healthy, full, and prosperous lives! #PHTYD

Health is the most valuable thing we have. Thanks to public health heroes, more people can live without the threat of disease. #PHTYD