

Erin Polak is Vice President for Government Affairs and Alliance Development at GRAIL - a healthcare company pioneering new technologies to advance early cancer detection.

Erin joined GRAIL in December 2019. In her role, she is responsible for federal advocacy and national alliance development. Prior to joining GRAIL, she spent thirteen years in the biopharmaceutical industry, including eleven years at Merck & Co., Inc.

Erin received her B.A. from the University of Virginia. She enjoys traveling, spending time with her family and friends, and outdoor adventures.