

Emily Mace is Deputy Chief of Staff & Counsel in the office of Congressman Larry Bucshon (IN-08), where she manages the health policy portfolio. A Midwesterner by background, Emily started on Capitol Hill in the summer of 2017 after graduating from the University of Missouri with degrees in law and health administration. She worked previously for Representatives from Arkansas and Virginia.